

Career Compass

by Ikigai

Your Personalised Career Guidance Report

Prepared for

Casey Sample

Hello Casey, welcome to your career journey!

Prepared by

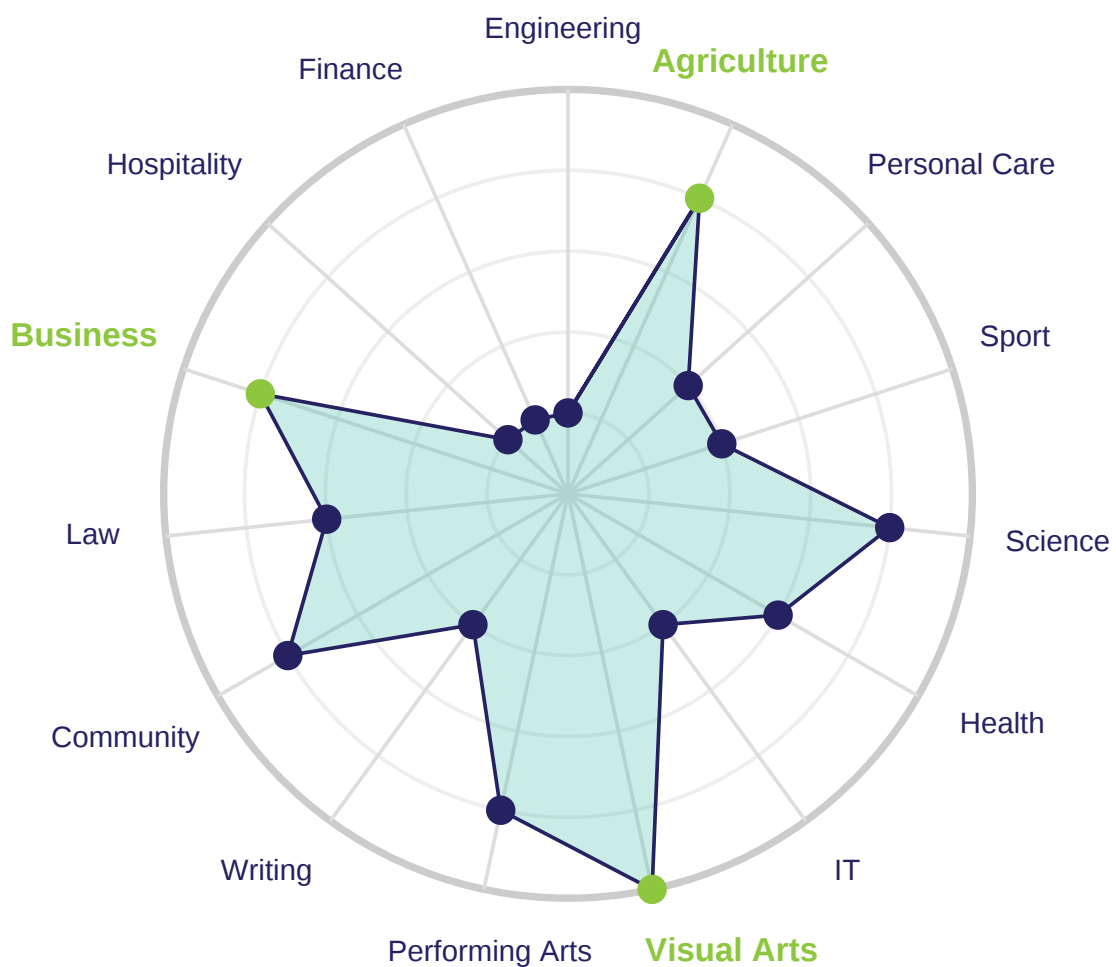

Ikigai, an EDUvelopment subsidiary

YOUR CORE STRENGTH: SELF-DISCOVERY

Casey, this section reveals your unique career profile based on your assessment responses. Understanding these elements will help you identify career paths that align with your natural preferences and strengths.

Career Considerations Profile

The radar chart below shows the full picture of your career considerations across all 15 dimensions. The shape of your profile reveals the breadth and focus of your considerations. Peaks indicate areas of strong alignment, while valleys suggest areas you may prefer to avoid.

Your Top 3 Career Considerations

You are likely drawn to roles that blend creative expression with entrepreneurial pursuits, potentially finding fulfilment in industries that prioritise sustainability and environmental consciousness.

1

Visual & Creative Industries

This field encompasses a wide range of occupations focused on creating visual and artistic content. It includes roles in fine arts, performing arts, design, media, and entertainment. Professionals in this area often require strong creative skills, technical proficiency, and a passion for artistic expression.

Your dominant career consideration for Visual and Creative Industries suggests you may find deep satisfaction in roles that allow for artistic expression and innovation. Occupations like Architect, Graphic Designer, and Film director from your top matches offer opportunities to blend creativity with technical skills.

Level 5
Dominant

2

Business, Management & Entrepreneurship

This job family involves managing, organising, and developing businesses and organisations. Roles range from financial management to marketing and sales, often requiring strong leadership, analytical, and communication skills. Industries span across all sectors, with a focus on strategic planning and operational efficiency.

With a strong career consideration for Business and Entrepreneurship, you may be drawn to roles that involve strategic planning and leadership. Top occupations from this field, such as Brand Manager and Event Manager, likely appeal to your organisational skills and desire to drive success.

Level 4
Strong

Agriculture, Environment & Sustainability

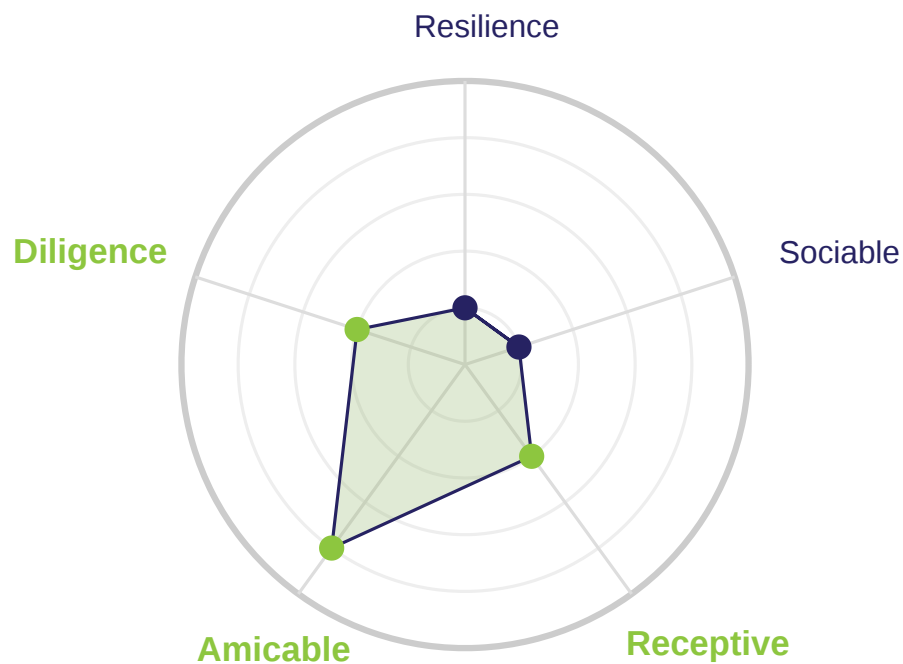

This field focuses on the sustainable management of natural resources, agricultural practices, and environmental conservation. It includes roles in farming, environmental science, and conservation, requiring knowledge of ecological principles, resource management, and sustainable practices. Professionals in this area often work to protect the environment and promote sustainable development.

Your strong career consideration for Agriculture, Environment & Sustainability indicates a potential interest in contributing to environmental protection and sustainable practices. Occupations like Environmental Manager and Landscape Architects or Technologist from your top matches suggest a desire to combine your creative and business skills with environmental stewardship.

Level 4
Strong

Your Dominant Social Styles

Your professional style is built on your Amicable approach, suggesting you likely thrive in collaborative environments where you can build rapport and foster positive relationships.

Amicable

Your likely preference for being amicable may reflect a tendency towards cooperation, empathy, and consideration for others. A higher score suggests you likely prioritise harmony and teamwork, while a lower score suggests you may be more comfortable with competition and direct confrontation.

Receptive

Your likely preference for being receptive might indicate how open you are to new experiences, ideas, and creative approaches. A higher score suggests you likely enjoy exploring novel concepts and thinking outside the box, while a lower score suggests you may prefer established methods and practical solutions.

Diligence

Your likely preference for diligence may reflect how organised, disciplined, and detail-oriented you are. A higher score suggests you likely excel at planning, following through on commitments, and maintaining high standards, while a lower score suggests you may prefer flexibility and spontaneity over rigid structure.

The Complexity You Crave

Your complexity level indicates the type of cognitive challenges you naturally gravitate towards.

The Complexity You Crave

Very High

Your preference for work complexity is likely to be very high. You likely seek the highest levels of intellectual challenge and complexity. You may excel in environments that require advanced problem-solving, innovative thinking, and mastery of complex systems or theories.

Given your career consideration for creative industries and your Amicable working style, you would likely excel in roles that combine expert-level judgement and original thinking within a dynamic and collaborative setting.

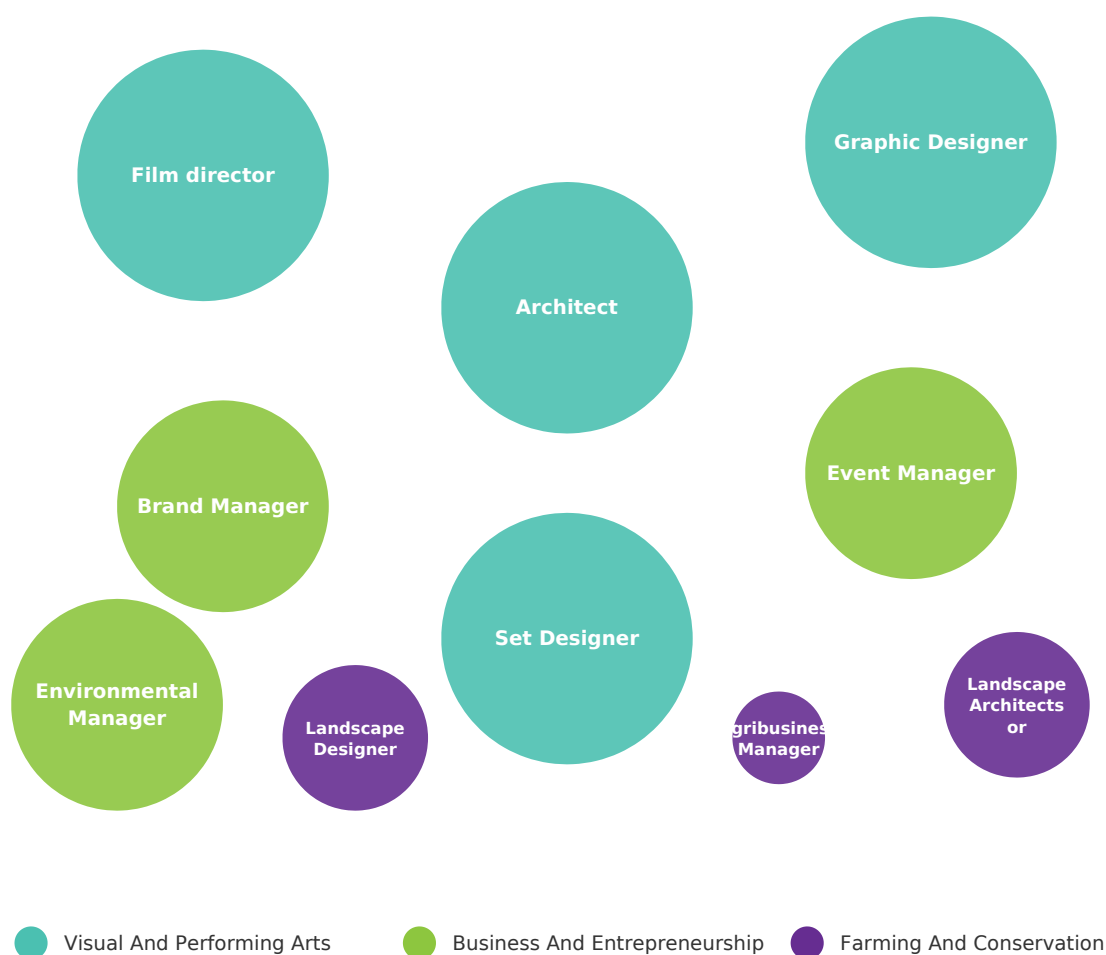

Casey, your unique combination of interests, social style, and complexity preference forms the foundation for finding careers where you can thrive and contribute meaningfully.

Section 2: Action Planning

Casey, based on your unique profile, our AI career matching engine has identified the occupations that best align with your interests, social style, and complexity preferences. Use this section to explore your top career matches and plan your next steps.

Career Match Breakdown

This bubble chart shows your top 10 career matches at a glance. The size of each bubble suggests relative match strength — larger bubbles indicate a relatively stronger fit. Colours represent different career consideration fields, helping you see patterns in your profile.

Your #1 Career Match

Why This Career Fits You Best

Architect

Architect stands out as the best match due to its strong alignment with your dominant career consideration for Visual and Creative Industries, offering a blend of design and technical skills. Your amicable social style may help you collaborate effectively with clients and construction teams, while the complexity of architectural projects may provide the intellectual stimulation you likely prefer. This career likely allows you to express your creativity while engaging in complex problem-solving, making it an ideal fit for your profile.

Your Other Top Career Matches

#2 Film director

As a Film director, you would likely lead the creative vision of film productions, aligning with your strong career consideration for Visual and Creative Industries. The role's high complexity and need for expert judgement may appeal to your preference for challenging work.

#3 Graphic Designer

As a Graphic Designer, you would likely create visual concepts for various media, satisfying your dominant career consideration for Visual and Creative Industries. Your aptitude for high-complexity tasks may be well-suited to the demands of creating effective visual communication.

#4 Set Designer

As a Set Designer, you would likely design and build stage settings for film and theatre, aligning with your primary career consideration for Visual and Creative Industries. The role's complexity and creative demands may be a great fit for your profile.

#5 Brand Manager

As a Brand Manager, you would likely develop brand strategies and build market position, blending your strong career consideration for Business and Entrepreneurship with high-level strategic thinking. Your preference for complex roles may be well-suited to the challenges of managing a brand.

#6 Event Manager

As an Event Manager, you would likely plan and coordinate events, blending your strong career consideration for Business and Entrepreneurship with your preference for intricate planning and execution. The complexity of managing events may align well with your profile.

#7 Environmental Manager

As an Environmental Manager, you would likely ensure organisations comply with environmental regulations, blending your strong career consideration for Business and Entrepreneurship with sustainability. The role's high complexity and strategic focus may appeal to your preference for challenging work.

#8 Landscape Architects or Technologist

As a Landscape Architects or Technologist, you would likely design outdoor spaces, blending your strong career consideration for Agriculture, Environment & Sustainability with creative design. The role's technical aspects and need for problem-solving may appeal to you.

#9 Landscape Designer

As a Landscape Designer, you would likely create garden designs, blending your strong career consideration for Agriculture, Environment & Sustainability with your interest in visual aesthetics. The role's blend of creativity and environmental awareness may suit you.

#10 Agribusiness Manager

Given your career consideration for Agriculture, Environment & Sustainability, you may find that being an Agribusiness Manager aligns with your goals. This role could allow you to apply business principles to agricultural enterprises, potentially incorporating visual and creative elements into marketing and management.

Casey, these career matches are starting points for your exploration. The next section provides practical steps to learn more about these opportunities.

Section 3: Exploration

Casey, now it's time to take action! This section provides practical steps to explore your top career match and develop the skills you'll need to succeed.

Video Exploration

Search YouTube for "A Day in the Life of a Architect" to see what this career looks like in practice. Watching real professionals at work can help you understand if this path is right for you.

Informational Interview

Consider reaching out to professionals working in your top career matches. Ask them about their journey, daily responsibilities, and advice for newcomers. Most professionals are happy to share their experiences with aspiring young people.

Your Career Narratives

Reflect on these prompts to deepen your understanding of what drives you:

Your Early Hero

Think about someone you admired growing up. What qualities did they have that you aspire to? How might these qualities guide your career choices?

Your Favourite Solution

Recall a time when you solved a problem you were proud of. What made it satisfying? This can reveal the types of challenges that energise you.

Your Motto

What phrase or saying guides your decisions? How does this reflect your values and what you want from your career?

Reflective Questions

Take time to consider these questions as you plan your career journey:

- ❖ In what ways can you integrate your creative passions with sustainable practices in your future career?
- ❖ What steps can you take to explore different career paths within the visual and creative industries?
- ❖ How can you develop your leadership skills to effectively manage teams and projects?

Recommended Skills Programmes

Develop these key skills to excel in your chosen career path:

Skill	Recommended Programme
Creative Design	Programme to be confirmed
Project Management	Project Management for Teens  Given your career consideration for Business and Entrepreneurship, this course will likely equip you with essential project management skills for future ventures.
Environmental Awareness	Programme to be confirmed
Communication	Communicate Better  Your Amicable social style suggests you value building relationships, and this course will likely enhance your ability to communicate effectively with others.
Strategic Planning	Think Smart  Your preference for high-complexity roles may make this course ideal for building analytical frameworks and strategic thinking skills.

Your Special Offer

As a thank you for completing your career assessment, enjoy this exclusive discount on our skills programmes:

SAMPLE-NOT-VALID

Valid until: shown on your own report

10%

off any single course

20%

off when you enrol in 3+

Casey, remember that every successful career journey begins with a single step. Use the resources and insights in this report to take that first step with confidence.

Ikigai, an EDUvelopment subsidiary